every unintentional break in DNA, misfolded protein, or cell that doesn't divide properly adds up year after year, eventually leading to overall deterioration and, possibly, disease.

According to Professor Jonathan Carr, head of the neurology department at Tygerberg Academic Hospital and Stellenbosch University, this behavioral change is called impulse control disorder.

cvs germantown pharmacy hours

germantown pharmacy ohio

germantown pharmacy inc