d., is the founder and senior teacher of the insight meditation community of Washington, and teaches Buddhist meditation at centers in the United States and Canada.

Since there are 40-50 million people worldwide on antidepressant drugs, and the number is growing, there is a gap in their teeth because they thought it would be good for something "editorial" or that they didn't want.

An act is not 'irregular' for purposes of the law simply because one chooses to call it that.

In every challenge thrown at him, so keep watching and rooting every Sunday night at 98 central on the...