because the shorter duration of their sport means that the risk of running short of glycogen is decreased.

I have been diagnosed with idiopathic peripheral neuropathy and pitting edema in the feet and hands secondary to the neuropathy.

And when done properly, will not "wear out" joints or increase osteoarthritis.