those feelings trigger the brain to send a flood of nitric oxide to the pelvic region the dispersion methods often require emulsification of the aqueous phase into organic carrier solutions by shear, bubbling or sonication these commercials reflect variations of the male gaze and depict society’s view of femininity.